The purpose of the Journal of Social Philosophy is to facilitate communication among those interested in the topics of social philosophy.

Papers submitted for publication should be no more than 20 pages typed, double-spaced, with notes at the end. Two copies of each paper, one blinded for peer review, are required for publication consideration. Avoid the needless use of terms which are too technical. The Journal of Social Philosophy is not committed to any school or method of philosophy.
