Contents

Articles
BARBARA SEIDLHOFER Closing a conceptual gap: the case for a description of English as a lingua franca ........................................ 133
MARKO MODIANO Ideology and the ELT practitioner ............................. 159
ANNE HVENEKILDE Kinship systems and language choice among academics in Shillong, Northeast India ........................................ 174
DIONYSIS GOUTSOS A discourse-analytic approach to the use of English in Cypriot Greek conversations ........................................ 194
LINDA GENTRY EL-DASH and JOANNE BUSNARDO Perceived in-group and out-group stereotypes among Brazilian foreign language students ...... 224
YONGLIN YANG Sex and language proficiency level in color-naming performance: an ESL/EFL perspective......................................... 238

Replies and responses
PAUL KEI MATSUDA On the origin of contrastive rhetoric: a response to H.G. Ying ........................................................... 257
H.G. YING On the origins of contrastive rhetoric: a reply to Matsuda...... 261

Reviews
Christopher Ward & Willy Renandya (eds.), 1999, Language Teaching – New Insights for the Language Teacher Reviewed by JOHN ROBERTS ....................................................... 267