JOPR: NOTES ON THE ASSIGNMENT OF COPYRIGHT

Why do we ask for copyright to be assigned?

1. The policy of Blackwell Publishing (acting as agent for the The American College of Prosthodontists) is to acquire copyright for all Articles. The reasons for this are:
 - (a) ownership of copyright by one central organization facilitates international protection against infringement, libel or plagiarism;
 - (b) it enables the most efficient processing of permissions and licensing in order that the Article can be made available to the fullest extent both directly and through intermediaries, and in both print and electronic form; and
 - (c) it enables Blackwell Publishing to maintain the integrity of an Article once refereed and accepted for publication, by facilitating centralized management of all media forms including linking, reference validation and distribution.

What rights does the author retain?

2. The author retains the proprietary rights in the Article described in Section B of the Agreement as well as the right to be identified as the author whenever and wherever the Article is published. We will make sure that your name and the name(s) of your co-author(s) is/are always clearly associated with the Article and, while you do allow us to make necessary editorial changes, we will not make any substantial alteration to the Article without consulting you. When the Article is accepted, we undertake to publish it as soon as we reasonably can. If it is rejected, this Agreement is automatically cancelled and all the rights come back to you.
3. In addition to the rights stated above the author shall retain the following rights:
 - (a) The right, after publication by Blackwell Publishing, to use all or part of the Article and abstract, without revision or modification, in personal compilations or other publications of the author's own works, and to make copies of all or part of such materials for the author's use for lecture or classroom purposes (excluding the preparation of course pack material for onward sale by libraries and institutions), provided that the first page of such use or copy prominently displays the bibliographic data and the following copyright notice: '© [Year] The American College of Prosthodontists'.
 - (b) Prior to publication, the author may share with colleagues print or electronic 'preprints' of the unpublished Article, in form and content as accepted by Blackwell Publishing for publication in the Journal. Such preprints may be posted as electronic files on the author's own website for personal or professional use, or on the author's internal university, college or corporate networks/intranet, or secure external website at the author's institution, but not for commercial sale or for any systematic external distribution by a third party (e.g., a listserv or database connected to a public access server). Prior to publication, the author must include the following notice on the preprint. 'This is a preprint of an Article accepted for publication in Journal of Prosthodontics © [Year] The American College of Prosthodontists'.
 - (c) After publication of the Article by Blackwell Publishing, the preprint notice shall be amended to read as follows: 'This is an electronic version of an Article published in Journal of Prosthodontics,' and shall include the complete citation information for the final version of the Article as published in the print edition of the Journal of Prosthodontics. The author agrees not to update the preprint or replace it with the published version of the Article without first seeking permission from Blackwell Publishing. Posting of the published Article on an electronic public server can only be done with written permission from Blackwell Publishing.
4. You may continue to use your Article solely as set forth in Note 3 above provided that the Journal is acknowledged as the original source.
5. Assignment of copyright in the Article does not infringe your other proprietary rights such as patent and trademark rights.

Permissions

6. In addition to reproduction in conventional printed form the Article and the accompanying abstract may be stored electronically and then delivered electronically or in printed form to meet individual requests thus increasing exposure of the Article to the international community. This transfer includes the right to adapt the presentation of the Article for use in conjunction with computer systems and programs, including reproduction or publication in machine-readable form and incorporation in retrieval systems.
7. All correspondence will be conducted with the author.
8. The Journal is registered with the Copyright Clearance Center (Massachusetts) and the Copyright Licensing Agency (London) and other Reproductive Rights Organizations. These non-profit making organizations offer centralized licensing arrangements for photocopying.

Government employees

9. If you are or were a US Government employee and the Article is made in that capacity, there is no copyright to assign, but you must sign the form to confirm the author warranties in Section A. If you are or were a UK Crown servant, or a Canadian or Australian government employee, and the Article is made in that capacity, the Article must be submitted for clearance by the Permanent Head of the Department concerned, and you must sign the form to confirm the author warranties in Section A. If the Article is determined to be copyrightable at a later date, then copyright and all rights included in this will be transferred to Blackwell Publishing.

Where an Article is Crown copyright, Blackwell Publishing must be informed as soon as it is accepted for publication so that the appropriate arrangements can be made with HMSO.

Applicable Law

10. The law governing this Agreement is the law of the United States and its various States, except where the Journal is published in another jurisdiction, in which case the law of that jurisdiction applies. Any dispute concerning this Agreement shall be subject to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the United States and its various States, except where the Journal is published in another jurisdiction, in which case the courts of that jurisdiction shall determine any such dispute.
