CONFLICT OF INTEREST STATEMENT BY AUTHORS

Readers benefit from transparency. Authors have a responsibility to disclose interests that might appear to affect their ability to present or review data objectively. These include (but are not limited to) relevant financial (for example patent ownership, stock ownership, consultancies, speaker’s fees), personal, political, intellectual, or religious interests, within the last three years.
Research or publication funding is considered separately.

It is the responsibility of the corresponding author to declare conflict of interest of all named authors.

Article title:

Author(s):

AUTHOR DECLARATION

Contributors should disclose all interests over the last three years; however relevant conflicts of interests that are older should not be neglected.

Sample wording

Conflicts of Interest: [Name of individual] has received fees for serving as a speaker, consultant and an advisory board member for [name of organisation]. [Name of individual] owns patent [patent identification and brief description], within the last three years.

Note: for financial disclosures you should: describe the purpose of the funding received by the funding body (eg, travel grant; speaker’s fees received from [name of organisation]; describe the amount of relevant stocks and shares owned

No Conflict of Interest: None of the authors of the above manuscript has declared any conflict of interest within the last three years which may arise from being named as an author on the manuscript.

Signed:

Date: