

THE FIFTH R. H. ROBINS PRIZE OF THE PHILOLOGICAL SOCIETY

£500 1st Prize
£250 2nd Prize

The Fifth R.H. Robins prize of the Philological Society is for an article written by a student on a topic within the Society's interests as illustrated in Transactions of the Philological Society (TPhS).

Closing date for entries: 1 November 2008

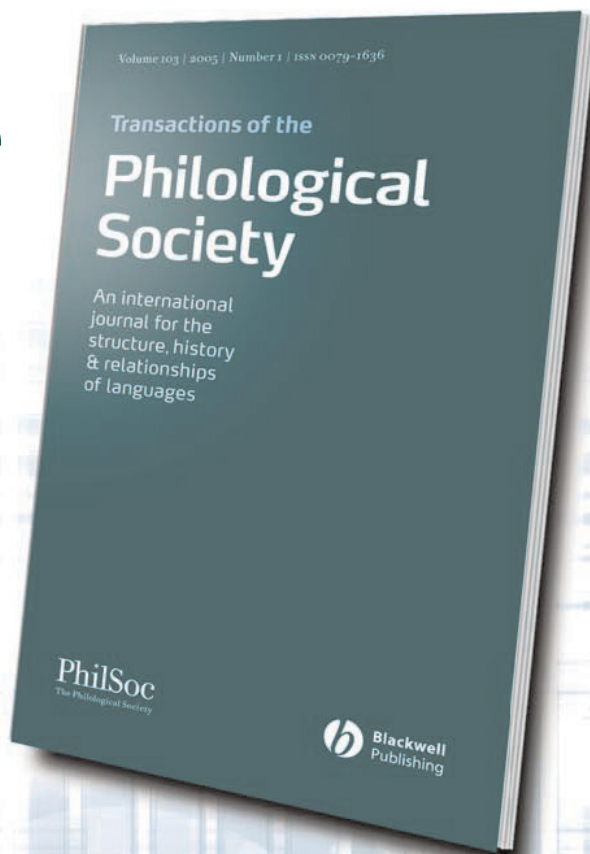

The winner will receive a cash prize of £500; the runner up will win a cash prize of £250. Additionally, a suitably revised version of the prize-winning articles will be accepted for publication in TPhS. Non-prize winning articles of publishable quality may also be accepted for publication.

Submissions should be written in English. They should not be longer than, but need not be as long as, 10,000 words in length. The article should follow the style sheet of TPhS. A copy of the style sheet together with full details of the competition rules can be found on the Society's web site at www.philsoc.org.uk/prize.asp

Entries should be submitted online via <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/tphs>

Authors should also submit a covering letter indicating that they are submitting to the Prize

PhilSoc
The Philological Society

The winner and runner up will be announced at the Society's Annual General Meeting in May 2009, and the prizes will be awarded when the final versions of the articles are published in the TPhS. It is expected that the winning articles will appear in Transactions Vol. 108. The Council's judgement is final.