

CALL FOR PAPERS

Guest Editors: Prof. Maggie Watson and Prof. Paul Jacobsen

Authors are invited to submit papers for a Special Themed Issue dealing with stress and cancer entitled "Perspectives on Stress and Cancer".

Papers may cover topics ranging from the stress-related causes of cancer, its prevention, and the psychological effects of cancer diagnosis, survivorship or palliative care. We will also consider the positive effects of well-being on prevention and survivorship. Original research papers, reviews, policy and health care provider issues and clinical cases on these themes are invited.

The deadline for submissions is: 1st March 2012

Please note that submissions from authors based in North America will be considered by Prof Jacobsen and Prof Watson will deal with all other countries.

Authors are requested to follow the guidelines for contributors given in the Journal.
