European Society of Gynaecological Oncology

In 2004, the International Gynecologic Cancer Society (IGCS) and the European Society for Gynaecological Oncology (ESGO) formed a partnership that together makes them one of the strongest voices in the field of gynecologic cancer throughout the world.

The mutual goals of improving care and standards of practice for the patients in the field of gynecologic oncology, promoting international and cultural communication between physicians and specialists, and disseminating cutting edge research are enhanced by the societies' collaboration on their joint publication, the International Journal of Gynecological Cancer (IJGC), published by Wiley-Blackwell Publishing. IJGC calls on a roster of international experts for the latest research, advice, and knowledge in order to provide the best treatment for patients. The list of editorial board members represents every part of the globe and all the major disciplines - gynecology, oncology, radiation therapy, and pathology - involved in treating cancer.
