Journal issue in which Book Review is to be published (if known) .....

In order for your Book Review to be distributed as widely as possible in International Affairs (the Journal) you grant Blackwell Publishing Ltd (Blackwell Publishing) an exclusive licence to publish the above Book Review on behalf of Chatham House in printed and electronic form, in all languages, and to administer subsidiary rights agreements with third parties for the full period of copyright and all renewals, extensions, revisions and revivals. The term 'Book Review' does not include review articles.

Please read this form carefully, sign at the bottom (if your employer owns copyright in your work, arrange for your employer to sign where marked), and return the ORIGINAL to the address below as quickly as possible. As author, you remain the copyright owner of the Book Review, unless copyright is owned by your employer. (US Federal Government authors please note: your Book Review is in the public domain.)

Your Book Review will not be published unless an Exclusive Licence Form has been signed and received by Blackwell Publishing.

Please note: You retain the following rights to re-use the Book Review, as long as you do not sell or reproduce the Book Review or any part of it for commercial purposes (i.e. for monetary gain on your own account or on that of a third party, or for indirect financial gain by a commercial entity). These rights apply without needing to seek permission from Blackwell Publishing.

- Prior to publication: We ask that as part of the publishing process you acknowledge that the Book Review has been submitted to the Journal. You may use the unpublished Book Review, in form and content as submitted for publication in the Journal, in the following ways:
  - sharing print or electronic copies of the Book Review with colleagues;
  - posting an electronic version of the Book Review on your own personal website, on your employer's website/repository and on free public servers in your subject area.
- After publication: Provided that you give appropriate acknowledgement to International Affairs and Blackwell Publishing, and full bibliographic reference for the Book Review when it is published, you may use the accepted version of the Book Review as originally submitted for publication in the Journal, and updated to include any amendments made prior to publication, in the following ways:
  - you may share print or electronic copies of the Book Review with colleagues;
  - you may use all or part of the Book Review, without revision or modification, in personal compilations or other publications of your own work;
  - you may use the Book Review within your employer's institution or company for educational or research purposes, including use in course packs;
  - 12 months after publication you may post an electronic version of the Book Review on your own personal website, on your employer's website/repository and on free public servers in your subject area. Electronic versions of the accepted Book Review must include a link to the published version of the Book Review together with the following text: 'The definitive version is available at: www.blackwell-synergy.com'.

Please note that you are not permitted to post the Blackwell Publishing PDF version of the Book Review online.

All requests by third parties to re-use the Book Review in whole or in part will be handled by Blackwell Publishing. Any permission fees will be retained by the Journal. All requests to adapt substantial parts of the Book Review in another publication (including publication by Blackwell Publishing) will be subject to your approval (which is deemed to be given if we have not heard from you within 4 weeks of your approval being sought by us writing to you at your last notified address). Please address any queries to journalsrights@oxon.blackwellpublishing.com.
