

Work, Poverty and Welfare

Matching Exercise

Match the terms below with the most appropriate description living at or below the level necessary to maintain a healthy life living below a standard of living generally accepted and forming the usual pattern of life in a particular society the whole range of welfare provision, including that provided by the state, private, voluntary, community and family organizations and groups. the dividing point between the poor and the non-poor where one aspect of poverty feeds into another, making poverty worse property in the form of assets which can be sold and turned into cash the way the labour process and range of occupations is divided up into a number of specialized tasks or jobs, each carried out by one worker or a group of workers the process through which the skills of workers are removed from work by the application of technology an organization that tries to get those with power in society to implement policies which it favours lacking the opportunity or resources to fully join in with society and being cut off from what most would regard as a normal life a group right at the bottom of the social hierarchy, in some ways different or cut off from the rest of society a set of beliefs and values preventing the poor escaping from poverty those who need the least help get the most, and those who need the most help get the least this provides an unearned income for its owner this is for use by its owner but doesn't produce any income people being pushed, for various reasons, to the edges of society and unable to play a full part in society rewards that people get when they sell their skills in the labour market a flow of money from work, investments or the state a set of values and way of life centred on an expectation of being supported by welfare benefits absolute poverty dependency culture

inverse care law
pressure group underclass

consumption property deskilling marginalization productive property wealth

culture of poverty division of labour market situation
relative poverty
welfare pluralism

cycle of deprivation income
poverty line
social exclusion