Names of all authors in the order in which they appear in the Article:

In order for your Article to be distributed as widely as possible on an Open Access basis in Sociology of Health & Illness (the Journal) you grant Blackwell Publishing Ltd (Blackwell Publishing) an exclusive licence to publish the above Article on behalf of the Foundation for the Sociology of Health & Illness including the abstract in printed and electronic form, in all languages. This will enable Blackwell Publishing to provide the benefits of Open Access publishing while preserving the integrity and archival status of all published articles.

The Article is deemed to include all material submitted for publication with the exception of Letters, and includes the text, figures, tables, author contact details and all supplementary material accompanying the Article.

Please read this form carefully, sign at the bottom (and if your employer owns copyright in your work, arrange for your employer to sign where marked), and return the ORIGINAL to the address below as quickly as possible. As author, you remain the copyright owner of the Article, unless copyright is owned by your employer. (US Federal Government authors please note: your Article is in the public domain.)

Your Article will not be published unless an Open Access Exclusive Licence Form has been signed and received by Blackwell Publishing, together with the accompanying Payment Authorization Form.

Open access: You require that the Article be published on an Open Access basis. This means that the full text of the Article can be accessed by readers without paying the publisher. The Foundation for the Sociology of Health & Illness and Blackwell Publishing's current definition is at <http://www.blackwellpublishing.com/static/openaccess.asp?site=1>

Please note: You retain the following rights to re-use the Article, as long as you do not sell or reproduce the Article or any part of it for commercial purposes (i.e. for monetary gain on your own account or on that of a third party, or for indirect financial gain by a commercial entity). This does not affect your rights to receive a royalty or other payment for works of scholarship. These rights apply without needing to seek permission from Blackwell Publishing.

- Prior to acceptance: We ask that as part of the publishing process you acknowledge that the Article has been submitted to the Journal. You will not prejudice acceptance if you use the unpublished Article, in form and content as submitted for publication in the Journal, in the following ways:
 - sharing print or electronic copies of the Article with colleagues;
 - posting an electronic version of the Article on your own personal website, on your employer's website/repository and on free public servers in your subject area.
- After acceptance: Provided that you give appropriate acknowledgement to the Journal, the Foundation for the Sociology of Health & Illness and Blackwell Publishing, and full bibliographic reference for the Article when it is published, you may use the published version of the Article in the following ways:
 - you may share print or electronic copies of the Article with colleagues;
 - you may use all or part of the Article and abstract in personal compilations or other scholarly publications of your own work (and may receive a royalty or other payment for such work);
 - you may use the Article within your employer's institution or company for educational or research purposes, including use in course packs;
 - You may post the final PDF of the Article on your own personal website, on your employer's website/repository and on free public servers in your subject area. Blackwell Publishing will deposit the full-text of your article on publication with PubMed Central (PMC) in addition to any mirror of PMC (e.g. UKPMC).
 - Electronic versions of the accepted Article must include the following statement, adapted as necessary for your Article: 'Author Posting. © The Authors {Insert year of publication} This is the author's version of the work. For full bibliographic citation, please refer to {insert journal name}, {insert volume, issue number and pages}. <http://dx.doi.org/> {insert doi number}'

Third parties will be entitled to re-use the Article, in whole or in part, in accordance with the conditions outlined in the Creative Commons Deed, Attribution 2.5 Non-Commercial, No Derivatives (further details from www.creativecommons.org), which allows Open Access dissemination of your work, but does not permit commercial exploitation or the creation of derivative works. Please address any queries to journalsrights@oxon.blackwellpublishing.com.

In signing this Agreement:

1. You hereby warrant that this Article is an original work, has not been published before and is not being considered for publication elsewhere in its final form either in printed or electronic form;
2. You hereby warrant that you have obtained permission from the copyright holder to reproduce in the Article (in all media including print and electronic form) material not owned by you, and that you have acknowledged the source;
3. You hereby warrant that this Article contains no violation of any existing copyright or other third party right or any material of an obscene, indecent, libellous or otherwise unlawful nature and that to the best of your knowledge this Article does not infringe the rights of others;
4. You hereby warrant that in the case of a multi-authored Article you have obtained, in writing, authorization to enter into this Agreement on their behalf and that all co-authors have read and agreed the terms of this Agreement;
5. You warrant that any formula or dosage given is accurate and will not if properly followed injure any person;
6. You will indemnify and keep indemnified the Editors, the Foundation for the Sociology of Health & Illness and Blackwell Publishing against all claims and expenses (including legal costs and expenses) arising from any breach of this warranty and the other warranties on your behalf in this Agreement.

By signing this Agreement:

- You agree that Blackwell Publishing may arrange for the Article to be published on an Open Access basis;
- You agree to Blackwell Publishing using any images from the Article on the cover of the Journal, and in any marketing material;
- You authorize Blackwell Publishing to act on your behalf to defend the copyright in the Article if anyone should infringe it, although there is no obligation on Blackwell Publishing to act in this way.

As the Author, copyright in the Article remains in your name (or your employer's name if your employer owns copyright in your work).

Blackwell Publishing undertakes that every copy of the Article published by Blackwell Publishing will include the full bibliographic reference for your Article, together with the copyright statement.
